Prof. Matthias Beller once again a member of the Leibniz Association's Executive Board

Matthias Beller has been re-elected to the Leibniz Association's Executive Board. He is one of three vice presidents, along with Sebastian Lenz (Director of the Leibniz Institute for Regional Geography in Leipzig) and Stephan Junker (Managing Director of the Museum of Natural History Berlin - Leibniz Institute for Evolutionary and Biodiversity Research in Berlin).

The General Assembly of the Leibniz Association elects the vice presidents for a term of two years. Beller has been Vice President of the Leibniz Association since 2012 and is thus the longest-serving member of the Executive Board.
